Thank you so much for joining us for this workshop production! The playwright would love it if you could answer these questions about your experience as she continues to work on revising the script.

1. What were some images and ideas that stood out to you during the performance?
2. What did you find surprising in the play?
3. How did you feel about Joy's journey?
4. What was your sense of Pulp Vérité as a collective? Did you have a favorite supporting character?
5. What questions do you have about the plot or characters? Would you like additional clarification on events of the play or the back-story?
6. What is the story you think this play is telling? What do you take away from this play as an audience member?

Is there anything else you would like the playwright to know? Crystal is happy to chat with individual audience members after the show, or you can share more thoughts on the back of this sheet.
